No serious injuries as Southwestern bus hit on S.R. 56

By COLLIN OVERTON
Courier staff writer

No one was seriously injured after a driver T-boned a Southwestern school bus Tuesday afternoon at S.R. 56 and County Road 1000W.

The Southwestern Bus No. 4, driven by Jerry Adams, was eastbound on 56 while the other vehicle was at a stop sign and southbound on 1000W around 4 p.m., explained Josh Taylor, chief deputy of the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department. The driver on 1000W turned onto 56 into the path of the passing bus and hit the side of the bus, causing the front end of the bus to go into a roadside ditch.

Taylor said he knew of two children who were taken to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries — one by ambulance, the other by a parent. One was experiencing "whiplash-like" symptoms; the other's head hit the window, Taylor said. The driver of the vehicle that hit the bus refused treatment at the scene.

Southwestern Superintendent Jeff Bates said he estimates eight students were on the bus at the time accident. Most were picked up by their parents at the scene, and the rest were bused back to Southwestern for later pick-up, he said.

The bus was owned by Adams, and was towed to Southwestern's bus lot. Adams drove one of the corporation's buses and was able to run his normal route Wednesday morning, Bates said.

CITY'S PAVING NEARS END

Paving crews resurface Vaughn Drive Wednesday morning, the next-to-last project of the roughly two dozen streets to be paved this summer in $1.5 million in city road upgrades. (Courier staff photo by Mark Campbell)

More than $1.5M and 2 dozen city streets

By MARK CAMPBELL
Courier staff report

A busy season of road milling and paving should wrap up in the City of Madison by the end of October as the final projects are completed on more than $1.5 million in road improvements that included resurfacing parts or all of almost two dozen city streets.

Earlier this year the city received an additional $757,820 allocation from the Indiana Department of Transportation for road improvements as part of an overall $1,515,640 budget Madison had to spend on streets this year.

Getting that many projects completed in one summer has taken weeks of work with dozens of temporary road closures and construction zones but the work is finally drawing to a close.

Madison Street Department Superintendent Tony Sorrells told city council Tuesday that work to complete resurfacing of Vaughn Drive was scheduled to begin Wednesday morning and that crews would then tackle a stretch of Michigan Road from Clifty Drive north to the city limits to finish off the season.

"By the end of October it will all be done," Sorrells said. "It's been a team effort."

Vaughn Drive and Michigan Road have both already been milled — the grinding of the old surface to help ensure a smooth roadway once the new asphalt is applied — but work on Vaughn was delayed this week by the first substantial rainfall in Madison in almost two months.

"They don't like to pave when the roadway is damp so that delayed work this week," Sorrells said.

Work on city streets is just a fraction of the overall road work being conducted in Madison this summer.

The state also recently completed a $2.1 million project to correct several slides along Hanging Rock Hill and resurface 3.5 miles of S.R. 7 from downtown Madison to Clifty Drive on the hilltop. In addition, the $9.5 million Project 421 Gateway to Madison continues construction on a new entrance to the city by connecting the Milton-Madison Bridge on U.S. 421 (Harrison Street) to Main Street in Madison.

Sorrells said it will be a relief to have the resurfacing projects completed and just in time because Streets Department employees will be turning their attention to leaf removal at the end of the month.

"We'll be picking up leaves soon," Sorrells said, noting that trucks and equipment are ready and standing by for that annual task.

In other business, the council heard several other reports including an update on the city's fire and police departments.

Madison Fire Chief Bill Devries said the department recently received applications from three new firefighter candidates but is always looking for more qualified volunteers. The city's six departments are staffed by 60 to 70 firefighters but needs up to 190 firefighters to be fully staffed for a city of Madison's size with that number of departments.

Firefighters now are undergoing annual training to provide the more than 153 hours of instruction they need for certification.

Assistant Police Chief Major Ben McKay said the Madison Police Department has two officers attending the Indiana Police Academy.

A third who became ill on the first day of training has missed too much time to remain in the current class and will have to attend the 15-week academy in January once cleared by doctors.

That leaves MPD's paid department with one open slot to fill. To be fully staffed the department needs 29 officers.

The meeting, the council's first since the death of Mayor Damon Welch, included a moment of silence for Welch at the beginning and closed with remarks by each council member as well as city attorney Joe Jenner and city treasurer Rick Berry, on Welch's legacy and how city employees and acting Mayor Dan Dattilo have continued business during the emotional interim since the mayor's unexpected death Sept. 25.

The recurrent theme was that Welch's leadership, dedication and ability to govern firmly but fairly and remain friendly either way made him an effective city leader and contributed to the numerous accomplishments during his seven-plus years as mayor and almost 16 years in city office.

Dattilo asked Councilmembers Laura Hodges, a Republican, and Derma Smith, a Democrat, to form a committee to come up with a way to "properly honor" Welch at a later date for his contributions to the city.

GOP to caucus Saturday to pick interim mayor

Courier staff report

The Republican Party caucus to select the interim mayor who will serve the final weeks of Madison Mayor Damon Welch's term in office will be Saturday at the Red Bicycle Club in downtown Madison.

The party will caucus at 9 a.m. to consider applicants for the position. Voting to select the interim mayor will be by precinct committee heads. The caucus will be closed to the public, said Karl Eaglin, chair of the Jefferson County Republican Party.

Welch, a Republican whose term would have been through Dec. 31, died unexpectedly Sept. 25.

City Council Pro Tem Dan Dattilo, a Democrat, was sworn in as acting mayor later that morning, according to the city's charter. The Republican Party then exercised its right to nominate and elect an interim mayor to serve out Welch's term.

Welch, who was not to seeking re-election, will be replaced by either Republican Bob Courtney or Democrat Julie Berry, who are on the ballot in the Nov. 5 General Election.

Injuries serious in hilltop crash

Courier staff report

An accident involving an Indiana Department of Corrections van and another vehicle is believed to have resulted in at least one death and serious injuries to a corrections officer near the intersection of U.S. 421 and North Michigan Road at about 4 a.m. Wednesday.

The Jefferson County Coroners Office was called to the scene but has not released a report on the accident.

However, DOC spokesperson Margaux Auxier in Indianapolis confirmed that one of the DOC's vehicles was involved in the crash and a corrections officer was flown to University of Louisville Hospital by helicopter in "serious condition" with "possible life-threatening injuries."

Auxier said the DOC vehicle was occupied by the corrections officer and one inmate. She said DOC often transports inmates from the Madison Correctional Facility on the city's hilltop to work-release opportunities at local factories and businesses and that was the situation Wednesday morning.

No other details of the crash were available. Indiana State Police investigated the accident but have not yet issued a report.

12-year term in meth case

By COLLIN OVERTON
Courier staff writer

A Jefferson Circuit judge sentenced Erin Addison, 33, to 12 years in prison Tuesday morning after police arrested her in January with more than 22 grams of methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

Addison was arrested by Indiana State Police Jan. 11 and charged with with dealing in methamphetamine, a Level 2 felony, and possession of methamphetamine, a Level 4 felony, but was prosecuted only on the possession charge as part of a plea deal.

ISP Troopers Joseph May and Jordan Craig went to 415 Emmons St., Lot 40, in Madison Jan. 11 to conduct a "knock and talk" investigation after receiving information about drug activity at the residence, according to the affidavit. As they approached the residence, Addison and Brent Benham, the homeowner, met them at the front door.

Trooper May asked Addison if he could search the backpack she was carrying, and after she consented, found a small glass plate with a powdery residue that May recognized to be meth. Trooper Craig then asked Benham if he had anything illegal on his body. Benham handed him an eyeglass case containing a glass smoking pipe, other paraphenalia and two plastic bags of meth.

Addison admitted to the officers that she had used the glass plate to use meth, distributed an ounce of the drug a week before and said she was a "go-between person" in meth deals, according to the affidavit.

Addison also consented to a search through her cell phone messages, which showed she had offered to sell an ounce earlier that day and went with Benham to "re-up," or restock on drugs, shortly before the officers arrived. Addison also said Benham had approached her that day asking for her help in selling some "stuff," which she said she knew to be meth.

A search of the trailer uncovered a purse belonging to Addison that contained 22 grams of meth, glass smoking pipes, cut plastic straws with residue, small plastic bags containing meth and several other small bags like the ones found in Benham's eyeglass case.

Benham was arrested on two charges, dealing in methamphetimine and possession, and later had two more dealing charges and a false informing charge added. He also accepted a plea bargain and was sentenced on June 26 to 10 years for conspiracy to deal methamphetamine, a Level 2 felony.

3 students hurt; bus drives off road

Indiana

WOLF LAKE — Three students at Central Noble Schools suffered minor injuries Tuesday morning when their school bus with 30 students aboard drove off a road and tipped over near the town of Wolf Lake, about 25 miles northwest of Fort Wayne. The Noble County Sheriff's Department told WANE-TV that the students were wearing seat belt and were taken safely to school afterward. At the scene, the school bus was off the roadway on its side. It took 45 minutes to turn the bus back upright.

Load of frozen bagels scorched in semi's fire

RENSSELAER — A load of frozen bagels ended up toasted and strewn along a highway after the rear axle of a semi-trailer caught fire and spread to the box. State police say an off-duty trooper noticed smoke pouring from the rear of a box trailer being hauled Sunday evening by a semi along northbound Interstate 65. The southbound trooper turned around, but by the time he stopped the truck south of the I-65 Rensselaer exit, the brakes of the trailer were burning and flames spread into its 38,000-pound load of frozen bagels. Police said the driver of the truck, owned by Balkan Logistics Group of Countryside, Illinois, had failed to release the brakes of the trailer. He disconnected the rig from the trailer before the rear tires exploded from the heat of the fire and local fire crews then doused the flames.

Woman gets 5 years in killing, dumping case

KENTLAND — A Newton County judge sentenced Jasmine Parker, 35, of Kentland to five years in prison on Monday after she pleaded guilty to assisting a criminal in the March slaying of Nicole L. Bowen, 30. Police say the West Lafayette woman was choked to death March 30 before her body was dumped in a rural hunting shack. The Journal & Courier reported Parker's plea agreement came with a one-year sentence, but she'll also serve another four years for being a habitual offender. Parker is one of five people who police and prosecutors say were either at her Kentland-area trailer at the time of Bowen's slaying or helped hide her body. The four others are awaiting trial.

Mom of teen killed by officer files suit

GARY — The mother of a 15-year-old boy fatally shot two years ago by a Gary police officer is suing city officials and the officer, alleging excessive force. Tasheena Brooks' federal lawsuit claims that Gary police Officer Justin Hedrick fired "without warning" a fatal shot into the top of Ke-Monte Cobbs' head as the teen lay on the ground the night of Aug. 1, 2017, during a robbery investigation. The suit alleges that Hedrick's actions were a product of the Gary Police Department's failure to adequately train and supervise its officers and the department's "failure to adequately investigate, punish and discipline prior instances of similar conduct." The (Northwest Indiana) Times reported the suit seeks unspecified damages from city officials and Hedrick. An attorney for the defendants, Michael Tolbert, declined to comment.

STATE BRIEFS

Stores may profit from Mich. flavored vape ban

GRANGER — Michigan's ban on the sale of flavored electronic cigarettes could spur new business for vape shops along the state's Indiana border, a clerk at a northern Indiana store said. Michiana Mini Mart, which is just south of the Michigan state line, saw a surge in business last year when Indiana legalized alcohol sales on Sundays. Antonia Hurd, the store's assistant manager, said she thinks Michigan's flavored e-cigarette ban could have a similar effect, the South Bend Tribune reported. "We got a nice boost when Sunday beer sales was approved," Hurd said. "We're hoping for good business off of this too." Last month, Michigan became the first state to ban flavored e-cigarettes after the state health department found that youth vaping was a public health emergency, which followed a recent uptick in lung illnesses and deaths related to vaping. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said Thursday that 18 vaping-related deaths have been confirmed in 15 states. Michigan Gov. Gretchen Whitmer said companies use hundreds of enticing flavors — fruits, desserts, breakfast cereals and candy — and deceptive advertising in an effort to "hook children on nicotine."

Kentucky

State urges drivers to put phones down

FRANKFORT — Highway safety officials have launched a campaign aimed at preventing traffic crashes by encouraging motorists to buckle up and put down their phones. The Kentucky Office of Highway Safety launched the "Buckle Up Phone Down" campaign Monday. It features videos, radio spots, digital advertising and a new dedicated website to promote the initiative. Officials say that distracted driving results in more than 50,000 crashes in Kentucky each year, along with more than 15,000 injuries and about 200 deaths. Officials say that distracted driving behaviors — such as texting, emailing and talking — are discouraged and drivers are urged to not interact with their phone. Officials say that overall highway fatalities in Kentucky declined in 2018 to 724, down from 782 in 2017.

Ex-officer gets 5 years for sexual misconduct

LOUISVILLE — A former police officer has been sentenced to five years in prison for sexual misconduct against five women who are suing him over the assaults. News outlets report former Louisville Officer Pablo Cano was sentenced Monday as part of a deal in which he admitted to having sex without consent with the women between 2015 and 2017. He was hired in 2015 and resigned in 2017 while on administrative leave pending an investigation into the first allegation. Several of the five lawsuits pending against Cano accuse him of rape. Prosecutors didn't go that far, citing questions about evidence of his use of force or physical threats. Cano also pleaded guilty Monday to possessing child porn.

Commission announces $44.4 million initiative

LOUISVILLE — The Appalachian Regional Commission has announced $44.4 million for 54 projects affecting coal-impacted communities in Appalachian states. The commission said Tuesday that the Partnerships for Opportunity and Workforce and Economic Revitalization Initiative aims to create or retain over 5,700 jobs. It said the initiative also seeks to leverage more than $39 million in private investment, create or retain 2,940 businesses and train thousands of workers and students. More than $14.6 million will develop business incubators, increase access to capital and provide other services in Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. More than $13 million will support broadband development in New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

Zoo asks public to name elephant

LOUISVILLE — A young elephant calf born this summer at a zoo has just about everything he needs, except a name. But he's a step closer to getting one. The Louisville Zoo has announced three finalists: Fitz, Rocket and Walt. A Monday zoo statement said more than 15,000 names were submitted for the calf born Aug. 2. Kristin Hays of Prospect submitted "Fitz" after her great-grandfather, who loved elephants. Tatyana Malkin's 9-year-old daughter, Sofia, asked her to submit "Rocket" to go with the zoo's recently named bongo, "Groot," both from the movie "Guardians of the Galaxy;" and Taylor Barr of Meade County submitted "Walt," after Walt Disney. Zoo visitors can drop cash in a kiosk to vote at the zoo, or vote online with credit card donations.

Lawyer says Pike should remove 'prayer lockers'

PIKEVILLE — An attorney for a public school board said complaints have prompted him to recommend the district remove "prayer lockers" from inside its schools. Pike County School Board Superintendent Reed Adkins told the Lexington Herald-Leader that Kentucky's Office of Education Accountability and a national organization advocating for separation of church and state have said they both received complaints about the practice. Students can request prayers for themselves or others by slipping a piece of paper into a repurposed locker. It's unclear who started them. Attorney Neal Smith said he's asking principals to stop the initiative. He said religious student groups that meet before or after school are "perfectly OK," but having a space in the hallway during school hours and encouraging students to use it likely violates the First Amendment.

Prosecutor halts case against Catholic priest

OWENSBORO — A prosecutor has decided not to pursue charges against a Catholic priest accused of sexually abusing two juveniles in the 1980s. Prosecutor Bruce Kuegel released a statement last week saying "allegations of criminal contact were not supported by evidence." The Rev. Ed Bradley told the Messenger-Inquirer on Monday that he felt vindicated by the decision. He has always maintained his innocence. Bradley was principal at Owensboro Catholic High School from 1980 to 1985 and was interim head of Owensboro Catholic Schools in 2017 until June of last year. He was temporarily suspended in March after diocesan officials received the first allegation and the Catholic diocese recommended to the Vatican in May that he be permanently suspended from public ministry. The Vatican has not issued a decision.

Black lung deaths to be memorialized

WHITESBURG — A group made up of black lung disease sufferers and supporters is dedicating a memorial to miners who have died of the disease. The Black Lung Association of South Eastern Kentucky is hosting the event in Whitesburg on Sunday. They will dedicate a headstone memorial for miners who have died of the disease in Letcher and surrounding counties. The disease is caused by breathing coal dust, and rates of the disease have risen in recent years. The dedication event will be at 2 p.m. at Riverside Park. The association has been calling attention to a government trust fund that provides about 19,000 sickened miners or their surviving dependents with living and medical benefits. A tax that supplies the fund was cut in half at the beginning of the year.

S.R. 62 to Canaan to honor Pendleton

Courier staff report

A dedication ceremony to name a section of S.R. 62 from U.S. 421 to Canaan in memory of James C. Pendleton Sr. will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday at the INDOT Madison Sub District station inside the former Jefferson Proving Grounds.

James Pendleton

Pendleton is being recognized for his service to both his country and the Madison and Jefferson County community. A veteran of the U.S. Army who died in 2017, Pendleton received the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Silver Star for his service during World War II where he fought in such historic battles as Ardennes, Normandy, Rhineland, Southern France and the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium. He later served as an at-large Jefferson County Commissioner from 1979 to 1983 and was a member of the Board of Directors for the Community Foundation of Madison and Jefferson County from 1993 to 1997. He and his first wife, Edith L. Morling Pendleton, were also involved with the Canaan Fall Festival and Indian-Kentuck Baptist Church.

The naming of the road was made possible by House Concurrent Resolution 19, passed by the Indiana General Assembly, in March 2019.

Community members, as well as officials from Madison and Jefferson County are invited to attend the ceremony along with District 67 Rep. Randy Frye (R-Oldenburg) and District 45 Sen. Chris Garten (R-Charlestown) in addition to family and friends of Pendleton.

The ceremony will take place at the INDOT Madison Sub District Conference Room, 1875 W. JPG Woodfill Road, Madison. Light refreshments will be provided by Pendleton's family after the ceremony.

Matt Schermer is Madison's number one live music fan

That's a pretty bold statement in the headline, I know. Madison has a lot of very devoted and supportive live music fans. Mark and Julie Perkins come immediately to mind. You'll find Jim Bartlett at pretty much any and every show. And Wayne Stearns drives down from North Vernon virtually every weekend.

But when it comes to pure, passionate support of our live music scene, no one comes close to Matt Schermer.

I've been immersed in Madison's live music since the early Joey G's and Electric Lady days back in the '90s. And I can honestly say I've rarely attended a show where Matt's distinctive, and somewhat diminutive, profile wasn't somewhere near the front of the stage, hands raised and two middle fingers folded down in the classic "rock on" gesture.

But, I was very surprised to learn, Matt is not really a huge rock 'n' roll fan, in spite of his ubiquitous attendance at so many shows. "My favorite music is big band stuff, from the '40s and '50s," Matt said, "and traditional gospel."

Matt is a long-time member of the Madison Community Band. "I play saxophone. My dad played sax, my uncle played sax, and my dad's half brother, too. It's kind of the family instrument. I've been in the Community Band since it formed back in 2009. I'm also the official voice of the band. I do all the announcing at the shows.

"I guess when I think about the kinds of music I especially love, like band music and gospel, it's the harmony that draws me in the most. I love good harmony, and that's hard to find in a lot of other styles of music. The blending of the voices, whether vocal or instrumental, that's what I really love.

"The Mills Brothers were the best ever when it comes to harmony. It's music in its purest form. Beautiful and soothing." Not surprisingly, Matt is also a huge Elvis fan, with an encyclopedic knowledge of his music and career.

As I mentioned, Matt attends all our music festivals, and in fact, if you noticed someone at Roostertail Festival this year in a yellow chicken suit, that was Matt. He's also famous for his legendary Halloween costumes. The Frisch's Big Boy (complete with giant hamburger) and the Papa Smurf stand out in my mind.

When I asked Matt how come I see him at so many area music events and shows, regardless of the music style, he said simply, "I do it to support local live music. You have to support it or it will disappear." Bless you Matt Schermer, we need more people with your amazing attitude.

Matt Schermer

On another note, I want to give you an update on a story I did back in January about Kyle McClanahan and his KADFest rock/metal festival. You may recall he pulled together the first event in the fall of 2018 on very short notice after a big festival in Louisville had to cancel. It was on a friend's farm on K Road near Rykers Ridge.

So this year, he naturally went about planning the 2019 festival at the same location. Unbeknown to him, the K Road location falls within the city's two mile buffer zone, and so fell under city jurisdiction. Neighbors complained about traffic and noise. Permits were delayed. The K Road location fell through.

Not to be deterred, Kyle found another location and KADFest is happening. On Halloween weekend, Oct. 24 — 27, Kyle is bringing in 60 bands to play at the Old Mill Campground in Friendship, Indiana. Go to KADFest.com for info and tickets.

HOT TIP OF THE WEEK:

Friday evening at 7:00 is another one of the great Madison Performing Arts Foundation concerts. Master violist Teddy Schenkman, accompanied by Starla Raley on piano, will be playing at First Christian Church on Main Street. Saturday is the annual Soup, Stew, Chili & Brew Fest, and that means lots of music on three street stages, starting at 11 a.m. and going all day. Bring your lawn chair and plop down in front of your favorite musician. It's all free.

Charlie Rohlfing is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd, anywhere live local music is happening.

Fun and good causes

Annual golf cart and UTV poker run in downtown Madison

Madison's Riverfront Development Committee's fundraiser Saturday drew more than 500 golf carts and UTVs to its annual poker run in downtown Madison. Committee member J.D. Webster said the organization doesn't have exact numbers of participants because entry involves purchasing poker hands in the run or raffle tickets for the ATV giveaway, but more than 500 carts and UTVs were in attendance, which was up from about 400 last year. "We had a great turnout last year and this year it absolutely blew up," Webster said. He said the majority of the participants he talked to described the event — golf cart and UTV drivers and riders ride to various locations in downtown Madison collecting playing cards to see who draws the best poker hand — as "pure fun." He said participants have to follow all city ordinances related to golf cart use — including the UTV, which are normally not allowed on city streets — and that Madison Police provided a strong presence but there were no citations, arrests or incidents downtown. Webster did not release the exact amount of funds the event generated but noted that the fundraiser and others similar to it have collected enough money to match other grants and fund this summer's completion of a $180,000 section of the riverwalk on Vaughn Drive east to Ferry Street. Inflatables, games and music at Hanover Park

More than 200 young people and their families packed Hanover Park Saturday, Oct. 5, for free food, music and entertainment provided by the Town of Hanover and Southwestern Schools. The party, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., featured inflatables, games, face painting, a Kona Ice truck, free food provided by Southwestern and music from Joel Curtis, Jimmy Davis and Bill Lancton and Back in the Day. Kenny Garrett, Hanover Town Council president and the main organizer of the event, said that the numerous donations from more than 30 sponsors made the annual event possible this year. "It was a beautiful day and it was great to have the kids in town come visit the park," Garrett said. (Courier staff photo by Connor Jacobs)

Walking Out of the Darkness for suicide prevention

The Out of the Darkness Walk Saturday, Oct. 5, in Madison drew 217 people, who made up 23 different teams and raised $17,549.71. The walk was hosted by the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention to help raise awareness and funds that allow the foundation to invest in new research, create educational programs based on current science, advocate for public policy and support survivors of suicide loss. Madison's Out of the Darkness Walk began at Bicentennial Park and benefitted the Indiana chapter of the foundation, which works year-round to change the way communities, schools, churches, profesionals, family and friends talk and think about mental illness and suicide. The Indiana chapter trained 5,445 Hoosiers in 2018 to recognize at-risk individuals in mental distress, learn the language to help these individuals appropriately and to access community resources. These trainings were possible because of the donations to the Indiana Out of the Darkness Walks in 2017. (Courier staff photo by Connor Jacobs)

Grass fire near Milton school spreads quickly

Milton Fire and Rescue and Trimble County EMS responded to a grass fire Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 8 a short distance from Milton Elementary. Trimble County EMS said the fire could have been started by sparks from a tractor or a cigarette butt that was thrown out a window, but with the burn ban that is still in affect in Trimble County, the fire spread quickly.

Boil water after main break on Madison hilltop

Courier staff report

Because of a Tuesday water main break on Miller Street, the City of Madison Water and Sewage Department issued a 48-hour boil water advisory for customers in the affected area.

The streets included in the advisory are Green Road from Michigan Road to Cragmont Street, all of Miller Street east of Cragmont, Holly Lane, Meridian Street, Marion Street and Blackmore from State Street north to Miller.

Those who experience low to no water pressure are advised to boil water intended for consumption over the next 48 hours. Water used for consumption must be boiled for three to five minutes. Water used for dishwashing in private residences can be treated with a few drops of bleach per gallon of water to provide adequate disinfection.

Madison man charged with child solicitation in Switzerland County

Courier staff report

A Jefferson County man has been arrested on charges of attempted sexual misconduct with a minor and child solicitation in connection with an ongoing computer crimes investigation by the Switzerland County Sheriff's Office.

Christopher A. Bryant, 43, Madison, was arrested by detectives with the sheriff's office Monday, Oct. 7 after a investigation into the use of online social media to solicit sex with a minor.

Bryant made an initial appearance in Switzerland Circuit Court Tuesday, Oct. 8. He is charged with attempted sexual misconduct with a minor and child solicitation, both Level 4 felonies, and dissemination of matter harmful to a minor, a Level 6 felony.

Bryant is being held in the Switzerland County Jail on a $10,000 cash bond.

Switzerland County man indicted in Carroll County armed robbery

Courier staff report

A Carroll County grand jury has indicted a Switzerland County man on charges of robbery, possession of a handgun by a convicted felon and theft by unlawful taking in connection with the Aug. 23 armed robbery of a convenience store in Ghent, Kentucky.

Everett Charles "Buster" Henry, 40, of East Enterprise, Indiana, is charged with holding up the Cowboy Food Store and gas station in Ghent by gunpoint Aug 23. He is also facing similar charges in connection with an armed robbery at a gas station in Aurora, Indiana, that same week in August and is being held at the Dearborn County jail there.

At the time of the robbery in Ghent, Henry was captured on video surveillance at the businesses. Police used images taken from that video to identify a suspect and produce leads on his whereabouts, including that he had recently been seen at the Belterra Casino. He was taken into custody without incident three days later by the Switzerland County Sheriff's Department.

Everett Henry

The first-degree armed-robbery charge is a Class B felony punishable by 10 to 20 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000, possession of a handgun by a convicted felon is a Class C felony punishable by 5 to 10 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000 and theft by unlawful taking is a Class A misdemeanor punishable by a sentence of up to 12 months in jail and a fine of up to $500. He is facing a felony robbery while armed with a deadly weapon charge in Indiana.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Department and the Aurora Indiana Police Department with assistance by the Indiana State Parole Office, Switzerland County Sheriff's Office, Indiana Gaming Commission and the Vevay Police Department.

BRIDGE

A SUIT COMBINATION THAT IS DECEPTIVE

Peter De Vries, who was a novelist and editor, wrote, "The universe is like a safe to which there is a combination, but the combination is locked up in the safe."

I felt a bit like that after checking the right way to play the club suit in today's deal. If you needed three tricks, what would you do?

North might have opened the bidding with two aces and one king, but when he passed, and partner opened one no-trump, he used Stayman before jumping to game.

West, even though he knew four hearts were coming down in the dummy, had no reason to worry, given his strong sequence.

As declarer, I could see six top tricks: two spades, two hearts and two clubs. Two more winners were readily available from the diamonds, but what about trick nine? The opening lead strongly suggested that the hearts were not splitting 3-3. So what about clubs?

If the six missing cards were splitting 3-3, everything would work. If East had four including an honor, there was no chance. But what if West had four? What would East's doubleton be? There were four possible low-doubletons, but six honor-doubletons. So I cashed the club ace, crossed to the club king (happy to see the queen appear) and led a third round toward dummy's 10. Now I lost only two hearts, one diamond and one club.

I was feeling happy, but when I consulted the literature, I found that it is better to cash the king, then play low to dummy's 10 -- why?

I suppose this allows for West's having five clubs.

PETS OF THE WEEK

MAX

Max is a 3-year-old mastiff mix who is a big lover. He knows how to sit. He loves to play, but his favorite thing to do is be loved on. He knows how to do what he is told, though he doesn't really know any commands. The shelter staff can point and he goes to what they're pointing at. He does well with kids and other animals and walks well on a leash. He has gotten his rabies shot, so he is $30 to adopt plus the cost to be neutered.

The Madison-Jefferson County Animal Shelter currently has 15 dogs or puppies, and 35 cats or kittens available. Pictures of additional pets waiting for adoption can be viewed at www.sisaveapet.com

Normal shelter hours are Monday, Thursday and Friday from noon to 5 p.m., Wednesday from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., Saturday from noon to 4 p.m., and Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. It is closed Tuesday. The shelter number is (812) 273-1788 and the email is animal.shelter39@jefferson-county.in.gov

All cats and kittens are $45 off unless they are already spayed or neutered. Discount is courtesy of the Animal Shelter and the Jefferson County Humane Society.

Volunteers are always welcome at the shelter. Individuals must be at least 16 years old to volunteer. Volunteers can help with everyday cleaning, answering phones and exercising the pets. Contact the shelter for details.

The shelter is a registered organization with the Kroger Community Rewards program. To support the shelter, register a Kroger card at www.krogercommunityrewards.com and enter FL919.

Support the shelter while walking your dog. Use the "Walk for a Dog" or "WoofTrax" app available through the App Store or Google Play. For each mile walked, a donation is made to the shelter.

A list of needed items can be found on the shelter website. Donations can be mailed to 2727 Hannah Drive, Madison, IN 47250 or dropped off during shelter hours. The shelter also accepts aluminum and steel cans, which are recycled and the proceeds put toward the medical fund. The shelter asks that aluminum and steel donations be separated. Steel cans should also be rinsed before they are dropped off. Cans can be dropped off at anytime in a bin located on the east side of the shelter.

Those with missing pets can stop by the shelter, call or email a complete description of the pet, when and where it was last seen, the owner's name and contact information and a picture of the pet. Pets are held for three days before they are made available for adoption.

Animals should not be abandoned outside of the shelter or dropped off at the shelter after hours.

For animal control issues in Madison, call (812) 265-3347. For animal control issues in Hanover and Jefferson County, call (812) 265-2648.

MARIE

Marie is a 6-month-old domestic short hair. She is called a tuxedo cat due to her markings that look like a tux. She also has four white feet, so she is not only dressed in a tux, but also has on her dancing shoes. She loves to jump and play. She is looking for her fur-ever best friend that she can jump around and play with. She loves making all types of new friends that visit the shelter.

No need to be friends with recent ex-boyfriend at university

Annie Lane

Dear Annie: My boyfriend broke up with me pretty suddenly and over the phone right after spring semester ended. We haven't talked over the summer, and now that school started this fall, it's been pretty awkward. I still have feelings for him and a lot of questions. Since we haven't talked to each other for about four months, I don't know how to start talking to him again. I don't even know if talking to him is a good idea.

After he broke up with me, he said he still wanted to be good friends, and I told him that I honestly didn't think I could be friends with him. I don't know what to do. What do you think I should do? — Uneasy at University

Dear Uneasy at University: I think you ought to listen to your heart, which seems to be saying that it needs more time to heal. So, be cordial when you run into your ex-boyfriend — wish him all the best — but put your energy into nourishing friendships, interests and your sense of self. One day you might be able to be friends with this ex, but that day is not today. And that is 100% OK.

Dear Annie: I was shocked to read that "Fearing the Future" is so pessimistic at 67. I am 91 and recently wrote the following poem:

"The Optimist"

"Why live to one hundred?" asked my friend.
"Isn't ninety enough to make a good end?"
"I think of the things I would miss," I replied,
"If, at ninety, I stopped and simply died."
Thousands of mornings to see the sun rise
In a glorious blaze in the eastern skies.
Moons to wax and wane anew,
Trillions of stars in the midnight blue.
Ten springs to see the lilacs bloom
As their fragrance drifts across my room.
To see new leaves on the maple tree
As the birds return and sing to me.
Ten summers to feel the ocean breeze
As whales cavort in blue-green seas,
To watch the hawks on the thermals rise
Into the blue of summer skies.
Ten more harvests to celebrate
Of apple and peach and pear and date.
To anticipate the vintner's wines
From fresh new grapes on ancient vines.
Ten more autumns in which to see
The change of color on every tree,
Russets and golds and reds ablaze
To brighten the ever-shortening days.
Ten winters of freshly fallen snow
On mountains above and valleys below.
Of cherry-cheeked children on skis and sleds,
Of blazing hearths and soft warm beds.
Ten Christmas seasons of church bells rung,
Of mince pies eaten and carols sung.
Of families gathered to celebrate
The wonder of that age-old date.
Ten more New Years to welcome in,
To wonder what the year will bring.
Will there be a new baby for me to see?
A great-grandchild on my family tree?
I strive for another decade of living,
Of hoping and praying and loving and giving.
And, if I reach one hundred, what then?
Why, I'd plan to live to one hundred and ten!

— Beryl in Keizer, Oregon

Dear Beryl: Thank you for lighting the way with optimism. Your poem made my day a little brighter, and I'm sure it will do the same for many readers.

Lady Cubs win in PKs over Scottsburg

By DAVID CAMPBELL
Courier Staff Writer
dcampbell@madisoncourier.com

SCOTTSBURG — Madison girls soccer coach Janet Hertz spent a portion of practice this week having her players perform the stressful walk from midfield to the box just in case penalty kicks were needed to decide a match. As it turned out, it was time well spent.

Jordyn Bilz, Zola Jackson and Olivia Spencer each hit penalty kicks in succession and goalie Abby Ferguson made the key stop as Madison defeated Scottsburg 1-0 in the opening round of the Class 2A Sectional at Scottsburg on Tuesday.

The shootout ended a marathon match between the two teams that went 94 minutes without either breaking through and set off a wild win for the Lady Cubs, who hadn't claimed a postseason win in four years.

"It's huge," Ferguson said of the win. "We're so excited."

Scottsburg (5-7-3) got to go first in the shootout and Abby Colson got the Warriorettes on the board with a goal but the next two attempts each were left of the net. Madison, meanwhile, was money on all three of its attempts with Bilz, Jackson and Spencer all putting the ball in the net.

Ferguson settled into her spot for the fourth attempt and stopped Alexis Akers' shot cold. Although the play's significance didn't register immediately, once Ferguson saw her teammates running excitedly toward her she knew they had clinched the win.

"'I've just got to stop it,' That's all I could think," Ferguson said of her thoughts before the final kick. "I was focusing on what position she was in before so I knew which way she was going. Because the times before, she's gone to a different corner and she knew that I knew she was going so I knew that she was going opposite. Just being able to know what she was thinking was huge."

"We scrimmaged them earlier and part of the scrimmage format was PKs so having those notes for my keeper really helped her confidence," Hertz said.

Just as big was Madison's three goals in three attempts. Hertz knows how stressful it can be to make that 48-yard walk from the midfield line to the penalty spot and she made sure that her players were ready for the Madison broke free of a four-year postseason drought and in the process staked its claim as a title contender, rolling over Salem 13-1 in the opening round of the IHSAA Class 2A Boys Soccer Sectional 31 on Tuesday night at Madison.

The Cubs overpowered the Lions from the get-go and kept their foot on the throttle throughout the match. Madison totaled 60 shots, including 31 shots on goal, while holding Salem to just six shots, all on goal. The numbers backed up the match that unfolded with Madison's overwhelming advantage providing instant momentum for a team whose goal is to finish the week as sectional champion.

"First sectional win in over four years so this is big for the boys," Madison head coach Kyle Bipes said. "It's big for the program but I told the boys after that this is just the first step. These boys are ready, I'm ready, so now we got to put our focus on Charlestown tomorrow night."

Madison scored its first goal less than two minutes into the match when Hugo Bravo connected on a short kick from the left side of the field and Will Heitz followed with 30 minutes left in the first half with his lone goal on the night. The lead increased to 3-0 on Carson Denton's attack on the right side.

Salem finally got on the board on a long kick by Lucas Noel that sailed over Madison goalie Zach Forner's outstretched arm. But the Lions were scoreless the rest of the night and never again threatened deep in Cub territory.

The Cubs finished the first half with 26 shots and 13 on goal that included two more goals for a 5-1 halftime lead. The second half saw Madison add eight goals — five in a 10-minute span — while totaling 34 shots with 18 shots on goal all the while mixing up the lineup and giving several players the opportunity to go for a score.

Pacers hold off Hilltoppers 1-0

OSGOOD — Switzerland County picked a great time to post its first shutout of the season, blanking Shawe 1-0 in the opening round of the IHSAA Class A Boys Soccer Sectional at Jac-Cen-Del on Monday.

The Pacers entered the match with only three wins but have been on the verge of breaking through over the past three weeks. On Monday, against a conference rival, Switzerland finally put together the type of game the team has been seeking.

"These boys have been working hard all year and they've been building all year long. The culmination was tonight," Switzerland coach Brian Grigsby said. "They've been looking for a shutout and have been close. It's nice when it all comes together at the right time."

Switzerland (4-9-2) dominated the first 70 minutes of the contest. But despite holding a 2-1 edge in shots for much of the contest, the Pacers couldn't break through in the scoring column.

That finally changed three minutes into the second half when Levi Curlin launched a header high into the air in front of the goal and it landed into the net out of the reach of Shawe goalie Hunter Kennett.

Despite an 18-3 disadvantage in fouls, Switzerland County made the lead stand up thanks to a tenacious defensive effort.

"What it really was tonight was defense. J. Dub (J.W. Goldsberry) and the keeper (Dallas Snider) really owned that back end," Grigsby said. "These kids might not have the best athleticism or the best soccer knowledge or talent, but what they have is a good cohesion as a unit, they play for each other. That's something that we've been building for years."

Shawe (5-9-1) shrugged off the Switzerland goal and did its best to score the equalizer over a frantic final 10 minutes. Held to just eight shots through the first 70 minutes, the Hilltoppers ripped off five over that final span but to no avail.

go up top and wanting to get a chance to score," Bipes said. "Once we got a comfortable lead I decided to make some changes and pull our keeper out and play some guys who normally don't get to play as much. And that's a good thing. Our camaraderie is really good right now."

Madison had eight different players with goals led by Denton, who finished with four goals on the night. Bravo had two goals and an assist while Gonzalo Lobato also added two goals. Heitz, Carter Schutte and Forner had a goal apiece. Elias Hanson racked up an assist on Denton's first goal in the first half.

"It's so hard to pick one guy and say man they played really well tonight," Bipes added. "Carson (Denton) however is up to over 15 goals this season and Will (Heitz) is over 10 goals and 10 assists. We've got plenty of guys who can go score and facilitate. That makes us extremely dangerous."

Madison (9-6-2) was to host Charlestown (4-6-1) in the semifinals on Wednesday night.

Tied 1-1 after overtime, the Pirates used a 4-3 edge in the shootout to knock off Corydon Central in the first game on Tuesday. The Cubs defeated Charlestown 7-0 in the regular season on Sept. 3.

Wednesday's first semifinal features Scottsburg (11-1-2) and Silver Creek (5-9-2). The championship will be Saturday at 2 p.m.

Southwestern volleyball wins 4th-straight title in ORVC

COURIER STAFF REPORT
sports@madisoncourier.com

Southwestern rolled over Switzerland County in straight-sets and in the process claimed the program's fourth-straight Ohio River Valley Conference volleyball championship.

The Rebels won 25-15, 25-11 and 25-12.

"We played very strong tonight. Our serving game led the way. As a team we were 73-for-75 with six aces," Southwestern coach Chris Johnson said. "Our offense was aggressive tonight. All of our hitters were hitting spots well and working around blocks. Autumn Harmon and Marissa Naylor were hitting the ball hard throughout the match. Overall, one of our best matches this season."

Kylie Eccles had 11 kills on 23-for-24 hitting and one ace on 6-for-8 serving. Marissa Naylor had seven kills on 13-for-16 hitting and an ace on 17-for-17 serving, Autumn Harmon had eight kills, and Elle Ford had eight kills and two aces on 20-for-20 serving.

On Monday, Southwestern gutted out a five-set win over Austin.

The Rebels won 25-18, 25-16, 16-25, 22-25 and 15-9.

"Tonight was rough. We started off slow in the first set but found our game and played well to end the first and continued into the second set. But many things went wrong at the beginning of the third set and we could not pull ourselves out it," Johnson said. "Our energy levels sunk and we started off in a hole during the fourth set. The girls did a great job to correct things in the fifth set. I stepped away from the huddles in the fifth and allowed them to talk through things on their own and they really did a good job of getting things turned around and played a great fifth set."

Eccles had 17 kills on 38-for-44 hitting and two aces on 9-for-11 serving, Ford had 10 kills on 37-for-40 hitting and four solo blocks and also added an ace on 17-for-18 serving, Naylor was 13-for-15 serving with three aces and added three kills, and Meaghan Kramer was 15-for-16 serving and 127-for-129 setting with 31 assists.

"I thought Meaghan Kramer did a great job of getting to many passes that were difficult to set tonight," Johnson said. "Marissa Naylor did a lot of defensive work that didn't show up on the stat sheet but she performed well for the match."

Southwestern, 18-12 overall and 5-1 in the ORVC clinches a share of the league championship. Milan also finished the ORVC season 5-1 while Rising Sun (4-1) has one league game lef against Jac-Cen-Del.

The Rebels host Henryville in its regular-season finale on Thursday.

Southwestern will then face the winner between Switzerland County and North Decatur in the semifinals of the IHSAA Class 2A Sectional at South Ripley on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Columbus East volleyball clinches HHC title with sweep of Madison

By TED SCHULTZ
Columbus Republic

While Columbus East would have preferred to have the outright Hoosier Hills Conference volleyball title, the Olympians were happy to share it with a win on Tuesday night.

East rolled to a 25-15, 25-12, 25-12 win against Madison on senior night, clinching a share of their first HHC crown since 2015.

The Olympians and New Albany both finished 6-1 in the conference. Floyd Central, the lone HHC team to beat East, is 5-1 with a game against Madison coming up on Thursday.

"It's awesome," East coach Stacie Pagnard said. "It would have been nice to have it outright and not share it, but I think a lot of things came from that loss to Floyd. We learned a lot about ourself, and we've made huge strides since then. It's really nice to be conference champs. It's nice to have that representation for our school and for the girls because they worked really hard."

The Cubs actually led 4-3 in the first set and were within 14-11 before the Olympians (14-8 overall) got a sideout. Senior Rilee Jessee then served six consecutive points, and East finished off the set on a kill by Jessee.

"Senior night, your nerves and all your emotions can come out," Jessee said. "So our team did really good keeping it going. Our practices have been really good and really intense, and we're all looking forward to sectional. We want a sectional championship this year. That's one of our goals. Conference was one of our goals, and we ended up getting that, so sectional is the next one."

The Olympians jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the second set and never looked back. They finished the set on a kill by senior Allison Mack.

East led 12-7 in the third set when it got a sideout and five straight points with Mack at the service line. The Olympians finished the match on a kill from Lexia Capes.

Jessee led East with 16 kills and 18 digs. Cadence Gilley served five aces, while Jessee added three aces.

Also for the Olympians, Mack recorded 10 kills and 14 digs. Mady Foster and Reece Whitehead each pounded four kills, Gilley had 12 digs and Kendall Schaefer added seven digs.

"Columbus East is a very, very strong school, very competitive, and they have a lot of depth. I think our girls did very well against them," Madison coach Camille Crim said. "They didn't let a lot hit the floor, and they just kept giving it their best fight. I'm really proud of our team. We're a lot younger, and I felt like we hung in there."

Madison, now 8-18 overall and 0-6 in the HHC, hosts Floyd Central on Thursday before competing in the Shelbyville Invitational on Saturday.

IU football ready to adjust after much-needed bye week

BLOOMINGTON (AP) — Indiana coach Tom Allen spent most of his bye week watching football.

He tuned into every Big Ten game, including the matchup between the Hoosiers' next two opponents, Rutgers and Maryland. He pored over game tape from Indiana's latest loss to Michigan State — three times.

Now, he's ready to use some of the pointers he picked up when Indiana returns to action this weekend.

"You learn things," Allen said during Monday's weekly news conference. "I watched situational things that teams put themselves in and how they answer those as coaches."

Allen acknowledged he found some wrinkles that could come in handy later this season and may make some adjustments to help the Hoosiers get their season back on track.

Just having a break could help, too.

While Allen sent his assistants on the recruiting trail, young players took extra snaps in practice and key replacements managed to get better acclimated to their new roles, Allen used the extra time to plot out strategies that could help the Hoosiers snap a four-game conference losing streak.

Their prospects certainly look much brighter this week with reeling Rutgers (1-4, 0-3) coming to town.

Coach Chris Ash was fired Sept. 29 after a 52-0 loss to Michigan and last week starting quarterback Art Sitkowski and starting running back Raheem Blackshear sat out after telling interim coach Nunzio Campanile they wanted to redshirt this season.

Allen saw how everything played out without Sitkowski or Blackshear: Maryland 48, Rutgers 7.

But Allen knows the greatest danger could be his players watched the game, too, and took a very different message from it than Allen.

"I think the challenge is you've got to be a mature football team to understand it's a Big Ten opportunity," Allen said. "They've got a unique situation they're in right now, but we have no control over that and all we can control is how we prepare. I know that we're playing a Big Ten football team Saturday and we'll have to be at our very best."

Indiana finished each of the past two seasons one win short of becoming bowl eligible and with trips to Maryland, Nebraska, Penn State and Purdue still on tap along with home dates against Northwestern and Michigan, Allen knows the Hoosiers can't afford another misstep this weekend.

For a Shawe team that has made a habit of coming back late in games, the loss was a bitter pill to swallow.

"From an execution standpoint, there are always things you can look at and try to clean up. I thought we played extremely hard; unfortunately, we didn't get the win," Shawe coach Cameron Willoughby said. "Switzerland County played us tough all season long and we've been in a whole bunch of one-goal games. A couple of goals here or there could have changed the whole aspect of the season, including tonight."

Shawe's rush at the end allowed the Hilltoppers to end up with a 9-6 advantage in shots on goal, although Switzerland held a 19-15 advantage on overall shots. The Pacers also had two corner kicks to none by Shawe.

Switzerland goalie Snider stopped nine shots in the game, including what was probably the game saver when he stonewalled the Hilltoppers' Henry Grote on a direct kick opportunity from just outside the box midway through the first half. Shawe's keeper Kennett had five saves.

The loss ends a season for Shawe that started off on a bad note with the resignation of head coach Seth Hall just before the opener but ended with five wins, all in Ohio River Valley Conference play. Willoughby, a long-time assistant coach with the program, stepped into the void and, along with former head coach Pat Stack, guided the Hilltoppers to what turned out to be a nice season.

"They had a lot of changes that came their way through no fault of their own. It was what it was," Willoughby said. "We were lucky to have Dr. Stack come back and help us through it. The season was definitely a challenge in ways that I didn't expect. But I thought they handled it well."

Switzerland County advances to the semifinal round on Wednesday where it was to take on ORVC rival Southwestern. The Rebels have won only one game this season but Grigsby knows that his team is in no possession to take anybody lightly.

"We've always been the underdogs for years and we are used to it. There is no way we're going to look past Southwestern," Grigsby said. "We're going to go and play Southwestern 100 percent. The boys know it and they know nothing is given on this field, you have to go and earn it."

STATE OF INDIANA
COUNTY OF JEFFERSON
SS: IN THE JEFFERSON
CIRCUIT COURT
CAUSE NO.
39C01-1908-GU-00034
IN THE MATTER OF THE GUARDIANSHIP OF
KLOE ANN TAYLOR, Minor

WALLER PHILLIPS and
PATRICIA PHILLIPS,
Petitioners.

PUBLISHED NOTICE
TO BARRY TAYLOR

Barry Taylor, natural father of Kloe Ann Taylor, is notified that a Petition for Appointment of Co-Guardians Over Person and Estate of Minor was filed in the office of the Clerk of the Jefferson Circuit Court, Jefferson County Courthouse, 300 East Main Street, Madison, Indiana.

On said date, the Petitioners, Waller Phillips and Patricia Phillips, also filed their praecipe for summons along with supporting affidavit showing that diligent search has been made and that Barry Taylor cannot be located.

On the 22nd day of November, 2019 at 1:00 p.m. in the Jefferson Circuit Court, Room 300, 300 East Main Street, Madison, Indiana, a hearing will be held in the above cause to determine whether a guardian should be appointed for Kloe Ann Taylor. The purpose of this proceeding is to protect Kloe Ann Taylor. At the hearing the Court will determine whether Kloe Ann Taylor is a minor under Indiana Law.

If the Court finds that Kloe Ann Taylor is a minor, the Court at the hearing shall also consider whether Waller Phillips and Patricia Phillips should be appointed as co-guardians of Kloe Ann Taylor. The Court may also determine whether a protective order should be entered on behalf of Kloe Ann Taylor.

If Barry Taylor wishes to contest the guardianship of Kloe Ann Taylor, he must attend said hearing and/ or file any objections to Petitioners' Petition for Appointment of Co-Guardians Over Person and Estate of Minor with the Court prior to the hearing.

The Court may, on its own motion or on request of any interested person, postpone the hearing to another date and time.

The attorney representing the Petitioners herein is William Joseph Jenner, of Jenner & Pattison, 508 East Main Street, Madison, Indiana, 47250, telephone: (812) 265-5132.

Dated this 30th day of September, 2019.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED LEASE
MADISON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

You are hereby notified that a public hearing will be held before the Board of School Trustees (the "Board") on November 13, 2019 at the hour of 6:00 p.m. (Local Time) at 2421 Wilson Avenue, Madison, Indiana, upon, a proposed lease agreement (the "Lease") to be entered into between Madison Consolidated School Building Corporation (the "Building Corporation"), as lessor, and Madison Consolidated Schools (the "School Corporation"), as lessee.

The proposed Lease upon which hearing will be held is for a tern of twelve (12) years, commencing with the acquisition of title to the building to be renovated by the Building Corporation. The Lease provides for rental during renovation in the amount of up to $1,387,500 per payment payable on June 30 and December 31 beginning on June 30, 2020 until completion of construction. Thereafter, the Lease provides for a maximum annual rental of $2,755,000, payable on June 30 and December 31 of each year during the tern of the Lease, commencing with the completion of the building on June 30, 2021, whichever is later. As addition rental, the School Corporation shall maintain insurance on the building as required in the Lease, shall pay all taxes and assessments against the property, as well as the cost of alterations and repairs, and shall pay rebate amounts to the United States Treasury, as necessary. After the sale by the Building Corporation of its ad valorem property tax first mortgage bonds to pay for the cost of the building, including the acquisition of the sites thereof and other expenses incidental thereto, the annual rental shall be reduced to an amount equal to the multiple of $1,000 next higher than the sum of the principal and interest due on such bonds in each twelve-month period ending on January 15 plus $5,000 payable in equal semiannual installments.

The Lease gives an option to the School Corporation to purchase the property on any rental payment date.

The building to be renovated will be the Administration Building in the School Corporation located at 2421 Wilson Ave, Madison, Indiana.

The plans and specifications including the estimated for the cost of said renovation as well as a copy of the proposed Lease, are available for inspection by the public on all business days, during business hours, at the Administration Building of the School Corporation, 2421 Wilson Avenue, Madison, Indiana.

At such hearing all persons interested shall have a right to be heard upon the necessity for the execution of the Lease, and upon whether the Leases rental provided for therein to be paid to the Building Corporation is a fair and reasonable rental for the proposed building. Such hearing may be adjourned to a later date or dates, and following such hearing the Board of the School Corporation may either authorize the execution of the Lease as originally agreed upon or may make modifications therein as may be agreed upon with the Building Corporation.

Dated this 10th day of October, 2019.

Secretary,
Board of School Trustees
Madison Consolidated Schools

Pacers beat South Ripley 1-0

Rebels fall 8-0 to No. 7 Providence

SOCCER ROUNDUP

COURIER STAFF REPORT
sports@madisoncourier.com

Switzerland County scored a 1-0 win over South Ripley in the opening round of the Class A Girls Soccer Sectional at Rising Sun on Tuesday.

The Pacers, now 8-3-4 on the season, face host Rising Sun (5-7-2) in the semifinals at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday while Milan (5-4-3) plays 13th-ranked Oldenburg (8-4-1) in the first semifinal at 5:30 p.m. The championship is Saturday at 7 p.m.

Lady Rebels fall 8-0

Southwestern girls soccer ended its season with an 8-0 loss to seventh-ranked Providence in the opening round of the Class A Sectional at Providence on Tuesday.

"It was interesting for our girls to play on a turf field and good to for them to experience a team of that caliber," Southwestern coach Nancy Totten said. "Our goalie sprained an ankle 20 minutes in and other teammates stepped in to cover. Our passing and teamwork improved this game and everyone has goals for next year. Despite our record this year and multiple injuries, this team has been a joy and the season seems to have gone so quickly."

Providence (7-4-4) will take on Christian Academy of Indiana (6-4-1) in the semifinals on Thursday while Austin (2-11-1) and Trinity Lutheran (2-11) play in the other semifinal. The championship is Saturday.

Southwestern ends the season with a 4-10-2 record.

scenario.

"The mental toughness or the walk-through part preparation itself was a big deal," Hertz said. "A lot of times we don't do the midfield walk to the 12-yard spot, so I think that little bit of preparation was the difference today."

Madison ended up with a 19-13 advantage in shots overall but only 11-7 on goal. Ferguson had seven saves for the Cubs while her counterpart Riley Pool stopped 11.

"(My defense) stops a lot of shots and they hustle back on everything," Ferguson said. "They take away a lot of shots that I don't have to stop."

In addition to the advantage in shots, Madison also had six corner kicks to four by the Warriorettes and was whistled for only two fouls to eight by Scottsburg.

Madison now advances to the semifinals where it plays North Harrison (11-2-2) at 5:30 p.m.. The Cougars ended Silver Creek's hopes at a third-straight sectional title with a 3-0 win on Tuesday.

Salem (4-6) takes on Corydon (1-8) in the other semifinal on Thursday with the championship Saturday at 7 p.m.
